

HWK NEWSLETTER NO. 1 - IMBOLC 2007

Dear All,

Happy Imbolc and welcome to the very first newsletter from The Rebeccas at HWK.

It has been a busy year for us in the soap mines, and we would like to say thank you to all of you for your support and kind words. We love to get feedback, and have had some lovely letters from you. This is an extract from a letter from Maggie, a very happy customer that we thought you might like to see:

"Your products are truly mouthwatering and whenever I feel stressed, I take a peek at your site because it is so soothing! I Picked up some of your cards at Treadwell's bookshop and passed them to friends....Your home must be a dream of 'industry' and imagination! Blessed Be love M"

So much has happened for us in 2006, but far from resting on our laurels we have even bigger plans for 2007. One of them is to send you a newsletter at each turn of the wheel of the year, updating you with our plans and ideas, and sharing the enthusiasm we have for our company. We are also planning to have stalls at more craft fairs and esoteric events (look for us at the PF London Gaia event on April 22nd) and to generally get out there and sell our wares in a hands-on environment. Check the website regularly for a list of events we will be attending in 2007.

Our first Sabbat soap of the year is Brigid's Fire which has been released in time for Imbolc and is available now online or in Treadwell's bookshop in Covent Garden . We also hope to expand our range of stock in 2007, so watch this space for further details. We will have some more lovely new goodies in store for you soon!

Meanwhile take care, and keep in touch. We do love hearing from you.

The Rebeccas
